GRANT DESCRIPTION

PAGE # _____

PROBLEM STATEMENT

Identify the traffic safety related problem or deficiency that the proposed grant is intended to correct. Identify and gather appropriate data relevant to the problem. Collision/fatalities data appropriate to the identified problem and a brief analysis of the data is required. When available, three years of data should be presented and analyzed. When identifying the problem, take into consideration changes in population, traffic patterns and other demographic dynamics that may affect traffic safety.

Hawaii has the highest older pedestrian fatality rate in the country, with 6.81 deaths per 100,000 adults aged 65 years and older. This was documented in a 2014 report titled "Dangerous By Design" by Smart Growth America's National Complete Streets Coalition. Next highest is California with New York rounding out the top three.

Pedestrian fatalities on Oahu among those 65 years and older increased to 48 percent in 2014, but decreased by 10% in 2015. The following is the number of pedestrians killed on Oahu: 19 (2013), 24 (2014) and 21 (2015). The following is the number of pedestrians killed who were 65 years and older: 7(2013), 14 (2014) and 8 (2015).

GRANT GOALS

Goals serve as the foundation upon which the grant is built. Goals are what you hope to accomplish by implementing a traffic safety grant and represent an end result. Grant goals should be stated in measurable terms (i.e., a percent reduction), be concise and deal with a specific item, be realistic with a reasonable probability of achievement, and be related to a specific time frame (a "by" date). Please notate baseline from which the reduction/increase will result.

The goal of the Department of Transportation Services (DTS) is to educate 1,000 children and seniors through our pedestrian safety presentations and 8,000 people through our community outreach events. Thus, we want to continue our efforts to reach out to seniors and children by speaking to senior groups and elementary schools, as well attend fairs, such as the Good Life Expo and The Hawaii Pet Expo.

Continue our pedtextrian program. A pedtextrian is a person who walks and texts. Our program focuses on college students as many of them text while crossing a street. Our goal is to educate 200 college students on the dangers of walking and texting.

We would also like to continue our efforts to keep Oahu's children visible to drivers on Halloween by providing Halloween pedestrian safety activity books to all Oahu public elementary school children, satellite City halls and library patrons (children).

We would like to continue our efforts on educating children on pedestrian safety. So far, there have been no fatalities of children on Halloween night since we began our Halloween program in 1996.

GRANT OBJECTIVES

Objectives are tasks or activities conducted in order to accomplish the grant goal(s) (e.g., develop permanent fitting stations for child restraints, enforcement activities, educational activities, etc.). Grant objectives should be stated in measurable terms (i.e., a percent reduction, number of training to be held, number of roadblocks, etc.), be concise and deal with a specific item, be realistic with a reasonable probability of achievement, and be related to a specific time frame (a "by" date). Please notate baseline from which the reduction/increase will result.

The Department of Transportation Services (DTS) will participate at public events, such as the Good Life Expo, the Hawaii Pet Expo and other public events. Educational brochures with walking tips will be distributed after each attendee is educated on pedestrian safety. We hope to increase public awareness of pedestrian safety by means of our participation at public events to educate the public.

We will continue our education efforts to seniors by contacting various senior groups in order to speak to at least eight senior groups during the grant period. Seniors will watch a PowerPoint presentation on walking safety tips along with interactive clickers.

We will contact three college campuses on Oahu to obtain permission to go on campus so we may educate students on the hazards of texting and using their cell phone while walking (pedtextrian).

We want to continue our education efforts to children on safe walking habits with our Ped Man program. We will contact summer fun and after-school programs to provide at least 10 Ped Man presentations during the grant period, showing our interactive DVD on walking safety tips or at a school event with our carnival game and safety prizes.

Continue our partnership with the Department of Education (DOE) to distribute approximately 65,000 Halloween activity books on Halloween safety tips to Oahu public elementary schools, satellite City halls and Oahu public libraries. We want children to be visible to drivers on Halloween.

Coordinate a proclamation by the Mayor to promote Halloween safety in October. The Hawaii Department of Transportation, DOE and Honolulu Police Department will be invited to attend the proclamation. The Junior Police Officers (JPOs) from an elementary school will be invited to attend.

Approximately 65,000 Ped Man bookmarkers will be distributed to Oahu public elementary schools and about 4,600 bookmarkers to Oahu public libraries.

We will participate at sign waving events to encourage motorists to be watchful of pedestrians. We will also coordinate at least one sign waving event (preferably in August, which is Pedestrian Safety Month).

Two staff will attend the Lifesaver's Conference in 2017 at Charlotte, North Carolina. The staff will gather information for new pedestrian safety ideas, as well as gather pedestrian facility design and traffic calming ideas to make it safer for pedestrians. Information learned at the conference will be applied to our local safety programs to enhance or develop new programs.

METHOD OF EVALUATION

Using data gathered throughout the grant period, the grant manager will evaluate (1) how well the stated grant goals and objectives were accomplished, and (2) was the grant cost effective? How are you going to show effectiveness of your project? What will be the impact of the project on your identified problem and goal(s)? Provide details on the method of evaluation.

We will continue to use the Honolulu Police Department's statistics for pedestrian fatalities/injuries, as well as child/vehicular incidences on Halloween for the grant period. Another method of evaluation is to count the number of attendees visiting our booth at fairs/events and the total in attendance at our group presentations. Educating the public on being vigilant when walking may prevent future pedestrian fatalities.
